NUMB. 1029

9^o 1037.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from France:

Vienna, Sept. 30. O. S.

HE Velt Marshal and Count Philippi, having obtained Leave to pay his Respects to the Emperor, had an Audience of his Majesty's other Day, and was very graciously received; which is a Confirmation of the Report that was spread to that Nobleman's Dis-

In the Audience he had of the Emperor, he gave a naked Account of the Affairs of Hungary, and told his Imperial Majesty what the Great Prince of Tuscany had before said to him on that Subject. A Suspension of Arms with the Turks is still at Hand; and, we are told, that by the Treaty of the Peace, the Isle of Orsova is to be without Fortifications, and that the Grand Duke is to restore all, or a Part of the Artillery in the Fortresses of that Place. This however is certain, that since the Overtures of a Peace to the Emperor and the Porte, a Courier has been dispatched to Petersburg to give Notice of it to the Emperor of Russia, and to concert in what manner he is concerned in the Peace. 'Tis said that the Emperor has already nominated the Plenipotentiaries that are to go to the Grand Vizier to settle a Suspension of Arms, and that they are three in number, viz. the General Count de Neuperg, Governor of Temiswar; the Baron de Tahlman, heretofore Imperial Majesty's Minister at Constantinople; and afterwards Plenipotentiary at the Congress of Nimrow; and M. de Penckler, Interpreter of Oriental Languages. Mean time the General of the Imperial Army are taking the same Measures as if the Enemy were preparing for new Attacks. They write from Belgrade, that the Count Cornberg, heretofore the Commandant of the Army, and who was under Examination of a Council of the Council of War for surrendering it, died at the Place of his Confinement, after having signed a Paper, containing the Motives which led him to it. The Colonel Baron de Salomon, who was accused of having last Year abandoned the Post of Crajova, on the Frontier of Moldavia, is condemn'd to three Months Imprisonment, and to pay all the Charges of his Prosecution. The Government has promised a Reward of 100 Ducats for the Discovery of the Authors of the Libels against the Conduct of a Great Minister, and a certain Pasquinade fix'd up near St. Stephen's, in Notice of a Coach that is lost.

finely illuminated, and over against it a fine Fire-work was play'd off, which was so well executed, that it burnt from Ten at Night till Two in the Morning: And in short every thing was performed with so much Order and Decency, as gave Honour to the Zeal and Care of those concerned in it.

Hague, Oct. 10. O. S. Yesterday the Earl of Albemarle treated at Dinner, Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick Wolfenbuttle; the Count d'Ulfeld, the Emperor's Ambassador; the Polish Envoy Extraordinary, and several other Foreign Ministers and Persons of Distinction.

Paris, Oct. 14. O. S. The Cardinal de Fleury (who is so well that he is determined to return to Fontainebleau) hearing of the false Reports about Town, that the Gold and Silver Species were going to be lower'd, which was a very great Prejudice to Commerce, wrote the following Letter, dated the 8th Instant, to Monsieur Hérault, Lieutenant General of the Police.

SIR,

WHEN the King last gave Orders for the Lowering the Sols, 'twas only by a Recognition to put that Species into a Degree of Proportion with all the other Species, Secundum Valorem; therefore I am very much astonished at what you tell me of the Report in Paris, that there is to be a new Reduction. This is but a poor Acknowledgment of the King's kind Regard to his Subjects, and to the inviolable Rules by which he proposes to govern them. I am convinced that none but People who are disaffected, or Users, can be capable of spreading such a Report, from a View of enhancing the Price of all Commodities, by such unjust Methods; therefore you may assure yourself, and all others, that the King has never thought of lowering the Gold and Silver Species, and that there will be no manner of Reduction of the Coinage, considering the Proportion it now bears to the other Species; and it will be proper that you should do your utmost to discover the Authors of those false Reports, in order to bring them to Justice. This Letter will be your Warrant for so doing; and, I desire you to be assured, Sir, that nobody has a more perfect Veneration for you, than

Cardinal de FLEURY.

The following Lines, upon a Subject so universally approv'd of, cannot fail of being agreeable to our Readers.

To Mr. Auditor BENSON, upon his Erecting a Monument for MILTON, in Westminster Abbey.

YOU who to MILTON's Name this Altar raise,
Will share his Glory, and divide our Praise:
Whilst for the past Neglect your Pains atone,
His deathless Memory you make your own:
As often as this Sacred Ground we tread,
And view the Man whose Heav'nly Song we read;
To you so oft our Grateful Thanks return,
Who join the Port's to the Monarch's Urn;
Nor are the Marbles of this awful Place
More honour'd by their Crowns, than by his Bays.

Hail, Britons, Hail the Gen'rous Care that paid
The Tribute which too long had been delay'd:
One Virtue has the Debt discharg'd, and shewn
By paying it so well, how great 'twas grown:
Who knew the Labour best, could best design,
What Honours shou'd reward the Work Divine;
The Beauteous Symbol to invent, and give,
Merits with MILTON's lasting Name to live.

False Patrons, who but ill their Praise deserv'd,
Dead Poets flatter, whom they Living starv'd:
The Monuments of some record their Crimes,
And others plead no Merit but their Rhimes;
Merit that scarce has Life enough to last,
'Till in its Niche the slighted Table's plac'd.
Your Bounty, Benson, with a nobler Aim
To our Applause affords a juster Claim:
You set the best Example here in View,
And mark the Path the Poet shou'd pursue.
Sound Judgment, and the nicest Taste appear,
Alike in what you read, and what you rear;
The Fancy fine! a Master's Hand the Frame!
And Art and Nature have no greater Name.

Beneath their Feet the Venerable Stone,
Time was when furious Bigots wou'd have thrown;
Not so this Age: In this, the Realm as free,
As ever wish'd the Patriot Bard, we see;
And Rest, and Science, and the Shining Train
Of Arts, declare a BRITISH FATHER's Reign.*

Go on, thou Friend to Virtue, and Mankind;
Worthy of Thee, one Task remains behind;
Give to thy Milton next, thy Mare's Tongue:
In Latian Language cleathe the British Song;
Farther than e'er th' Imperial Eagle flew,
His Fame shall spread, and owe the Wing to You:
To warm the Work with more than borrow'd Fire,
Thy Auspices the Lab'rer shall inspire.

* Imperiumque Pater Romanus habebit.

tained there; and 'tis said the Governor of that Place is confined; as also Capt. Alzaybar; so 'tis now uncertain when they will come away. A Man of War is ordered to be got ready, to carry a new Governor thither, and may sail in a short Time. It is confirmed from Madrid, that the Differences between the two Crowns are made up.

A Seasonable Caution to all PYRMONT and SPAU Water-Drinkers.

There are frequently imported Quantities of false Waters, sold by divers Druggists and others, which may be distinguish'd by their having no Marks on the Bottles, or Seals on the Flasks: Whereas no Bottles are suffer'd to be fill'd at the Pyrmont Spring, without having Impressed on the Bottles, either in Whole or in Part (as in the Margin) the Arms of the Prince of Waldeck, in whose Country the said Spring is situated.

SO likewise the true SPA WATERS have the adjoining Impression (being the Arms of the Prince of LIECH, in whose Country the Spau Fountains are situated) either impress'd in Glass on the Neck of the Flask, or sealed with the same in Wax on the Cap of Leather, or both.
Such Pyrmont or Spau Waters are not thus distinguish'd, are assuredly Spurious, and there are no small Quantities of such imported — which is the Reason of giving this Caution.

WHICH infinitely excel all other Medicines offer'd to the Publick, or known in the whole World; for they directly cure Deafness, be it ever so bad, and all Thickness of Hearing and Noise in the Ears, almost at once, and that after all other Means have failed, and without Trouble, or the least Uneasiness whatever, as many Thousands have experienc'd.

Hundreds who were so very bad, as not able to hear a Drum when beat close by them, and therefore despair'd of being ever relieved, have been quickly and perfectly cured by them, to their great Joy and Admiration.
In a Word, nothing in Nature can come near them for the certain and almost immediate Cure of DEAFNESS proceeding from what Cause soever; but the great Esteem and Reputation they have justly gain'd for many Years past, have occasion'd (as usual in such Cases) many Counterfeits to come abroad; beware therefore of such Impostitions, these excellent and only true Specifick Drops being to be had only, by the Author's Appointment, of the Gentlewomen at the two Blue Posts in Haydon-Yard, in the Minories; or at 1 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions, and no where else in England.
